Subject: BRUBAKERS PRAYER UPDATE - AUGUST 2008

Dear Praying Friends –

It's Friday, August 1, at 9:45 AM. As I type, two hours remain before we leave our house, saying goodbye to our home and friends for the next year while we're in the States. So much has transpired in our lives and ministry over the last year. In large part this is because of your faithfulness in prayer. Thank you!

Rather than writing the normal prayer update, let us ask you to be specifically in prayer for the journey ahead. We will be in transition for the next month, as we are in planes for almost twenty hours, driving almost 2500 miles, and sleeping in at least twelve different places. Needless to say this is a logistical nightmare but also a stretching experience with three kids five years old and under. Please pray as God directs you.

Our final weeks in Rwanda have been filled with a lot of goodbyes and introspection, as we've spent time sitting with Rwandan friends reflecting on what God has done both in our lives and ministry. It's hard to believe that we came to Rwanda in 2004 barely able to mutter a simple "hello" in Kinyarwanda. Now we are preparing to go home with an additional child, a few gray hairs, and some fantastic stories of what God is doing in Rwanda.

Thanks for your partnership. We look forward to seeing many of you while in the States. There are almost 250 email addresses that receive this monthly update, some of which forward to the messages to entire church congregations. Others read the updates on our website. And, others gain ideas for prayer through our contact on Facebook. Again, we rest in His care for us because we're confident that He hears your prayers.

See you soon!
